

I believe that Air 1 has, in my local community been a great support spiritually and mentally with their positive messages that they send out each day that even the people who don't believe in Christ are able to say that Air 1 has changed their lives in some way through their music and advice given to parents couples and teenagers. I know of people as myself that thanks to Air 1 reminded of God's grace and forgiveness and that he loves us, when I'm in hard situations. If you take that from us the only thing left for us teens to listen to would be music that doesn't minister our hearts or minds we won't be able to listen to music that makes us reflect on things, life and how we could make important changes instead of learning how to do drugs or be players or "P.I.M.P's".

Please reflect on how life for the people like me and many many others who do listen to Air1 would be affected.
